Powerful, loud and provoking the Crossover sensation bursts from the underground of Stuttgart city!

The Bone Pipers sound combines an extraordinary range of sparkling influences such as Rock, Rap, Funk and Metal. The revolution of the nineties is not over yet. Bone Pipers bring it back to life with groovy guitar-lines and tight beats making your head bounce. You think Crossover is dead? Wait until you experience the explosive show!

Fierce rhymes represent a critical attitude broaching issues of society and world order and thereby calling the audience to question carefully any influence aiming to shape your opinion.

The world is being poisoned - become the antidote!

The band was founded in 2003 by Jens Helebrandt, Michael Frey and Timo Frey. They were complete when in 2004 bassist Alex Grupp joined them and they found Chris Etzel - an expressive frontman.

After their triumph at the Crazy Chicken Newcomer-Contest Bone Pipers released their first record "Do you like it?" in 2006.

When in 2007 Alex left the band he was replaced by Tim Birkenbach. In 2008 the band broke up with their founder Jens Helebrandt.

Only one month later the Bone Pipers went to studio to record their latest EP, which was released in August 2008.

At the beginnig of 2009 they shot the first videoclip - "The Big Dick Show" - publishing it in March.
