HAPPY is a triple-award-winning song that makes it quite exciting to see how their first single release will propel the entire entertainment industry forward even more. Some of the more notable awards include (but are not limited to) attaining first place at the LIT Talent Awards, being a recipient of International Songwriter's Day Award and earning a Tracks Music Award.

Tonally, the song HAPPY couldn't be more different than Meg's 2020 vengeful and dark 23-track album NOPE and Luca's 2020 artsy 20-track album Change Of Rules. From Meg's unique vocal timbre and exceptional songwriting skills to Luca's world-class guitarist status that helped pioneer the modern evolution of the acoustic guitar, this couple is exceptionally passionate about creating a magical atmosphere that reaches the soul from the first note.

Written and recorded secretly during the global pandemic, HAPPY will be released on 9.9.22, followed by their first album together on 11.11.22.

The song HAPPY is baked in an acoustic and natural sound favored by instruments like the mandolin and the ukulele. And yet the day-dreamy and delicate sound in the song reflects an important topic in nowadays society, finding happiness and gratitude in the midst of a materialistic world. And it is illuminated with laid-back strumming, a twinkling mandolin and high-pitched ooh-oohs. The playful percussion, simply played on a body of an acoustic guitar, and the warm sound of a bass ukulele deepen the confident and free-spirited new summer song HAPPY. As a result, Meg and Luca never sounded stronger or more in control, since they released their music through their new-founded record label in Nashville.
