

“Glacial Throat”

By Anchorlights

The Düsseldorf based Band Anchor Lights is set to release their new single „Glacial Throat“ on November 15th 2024.

Being their second effort „Glacial Throat“ shows the band cementing their ethereal, yet punchy sound, combined with attention grabbing hooks and smooth alternative rock. Anchor Lights sound all in all, is taking its seat somewhere between good old Coldplay, Dredg and recent Bring me the Horizon stuff.

The song takes a bit of an experimental approach, with lyrics that deliver a sharp commentary on social and political gas-lightning and manipulation, while remaining all catchy qualities to deliver an accessible listening experience.

„Glacial Throat“ will be released on all major Streaming Platforms including Spotiy, Apple Music and Deezer on November 15th. It will be accompanied by a music video released on youtube.