

ALL OF A SUDDEN captures the energy and motivation of a band ready to burst. The first Single from the new EP is a short but telling tale of a man who finally lets his creative madness out. For years THE GECKO had been at the edge of the limelight writing songs, playing live and setting the pre-conditions for success. Now finally working with producer Johannes Saal (Super 700) and videographer Pol Ponsarnau they have made a classic performance video and have uncovered the slick but eccentric band within. Now it's time.

In 2008 THE GECKO evolved into the international animal it is today with: Espin Bowder (vocals), Carsten Brocker (synths), Samuel Halscheidt (guitar) and Pascal Gemmer (drums). In 2009 their first EP entitled Failure is Not an Option – mixed and fine-tuned by the Strokes collaborator Gordon Raphael – scored plays on radio stations locally and internationally, even though the EP was self-released!

THE GECKO describe their music as a fusion of 2001 Space Odyssey and Trainspotting. They write intelligent, energetic synth and guitar driven anthems that sound like they were made for stadiums. This British/German collaboration is based in Berlin.
