INNER CABALA

POST METAL / PROG METAL

FOR FANS OF: A PERFECT CIRCLE, LEPROUS, BRUTUS, THE OCEAN

[...] It feels as a meditative journey revolving around metal through different styles and an emotional and tumultuous rollercoaster. [...] We Are Solitude marks the beginning of what promises to be an exciting journey, and I attend to be a passenger!

(Metal Revolution)

The compositions are rich with contrasts, delicate piano passages juxtaposed against driving beats, serene moments giving way to explosive crescendos, all underscored by an unrelenting sense of purpose. It channels into the heart and soul directly.

(Headbangers Lifestyle)

Inner Cabala sees metal as a constantly evolving genre. Far from the rules set by the "old school", the Netherlands-based international act aims to blend modern metal influences filtering them through its very own eyes, shaping its distinctive sound through the different backgrounds of its forming members.

Heavy breakdowns find their space between deep, groovy riffs and melancholic, softened melodies. Chaos and pain are handled in alternation with meditative, thoughtful atmospheres. Inner Cabala is born from the need to express real feelings through music, and knows no compromises in this regard.

ALL REVIEWS

Inner Cabala's We Are Solitude is a very interesting and promising album. The band know how to break free from the rules of their own genre to create rich compositions that promise to be wild live. A captivating debut album that we highly recommend.
