„In Search of lost Time“ was Marcel Proust in the beginning of the 20th century and created world literature. SEVEN LOST HOURS continues this search in a musical way and joins catchy melodies with the energy and power of Hardrock. Combining tradition and modern to a consistent blend in order to meet the listeners and take them to a quest...

The musicians of SEVEN LOST HOURS have already been engaged in various bands and solo projects and consider their songs as a personal mission to fill the „lost time“ in life with sense and music.
