"Some wolves howl at the moon. Others sing Gypsy Jazz Pop."

About Isabelle Wolff

A poet at heart, but words alone can only speak—love is what sings. Isabelle's warm and expressive voice resonates with every listener, leaving no seat untouched. Her lyrics embrace poetry and raw honesty, weaving a tapestry of emotion and depth.

Her debut EP, Liebe und Freiheit (Love and Freedom), is a musical and literary journey exploring the question: What is love?

Born and raised in the Ahrweiler region, Isabelle grew up in a sheltered and conservative household. However, she was always the free spirit, the dreamer, the wanderer. From a young age, she carried a small portable recording device, singing and composing instinctively. Poetry became her first love, and music followed naturally.

After a heartbreak, she taught herself guitar at 22 and embarked on a life-changing pilgrimage along the Camino de Santiago in Spain. This transformative journey led her to abandon her career as an occupational therapist and pursue music full-time. Her courage paid off when she was accepted into the prestigious ArtEZ Popacademy in the Netherlands, where she earned both her Bachelor's and Master’s degrees in Pop and Jazz Vocals in 2022.

In the Netherlands, she flourished, finding her unique artistic voice in Gypsy Jazz. This path brought her to collaborate with Lulo Reinhardt, a descendant of the legendary Django Reinhardt, who performed as a special guest at her graduation concert. Her debut EP and poetry book, Liebe und Freiheit, was born from this experience, offering a deeply personal exploration of love and self-discovery.

Following the release, Isabelle signed with Leipzig-based record label Pretty Noice Records and embarked on an international journey. Performing across Germany, the Netherlands, France, and Switzerland, she then set her sights on the other side of the world—New Zealand. There, she spent six months traveling in a van, building a musical network, hosting workshops, and playing concerts and festivals.

In 2023, she returned to Europe for a summer tour, performing solo and with her band. This winter, she will return to New Zealand for another tour, continuing to expand her reach across continents. Currently, she is working on her first English-language EP and a new poetry collection, further spreading her musical wings.

Debut EP: Liebe und Freiheit (Released May 22, 2022)

This four-track debut EP invites listeners on a journey to explore love in all its forms. It shares intimate experiences and reflections on love’s complexities—sometimes indescribable in words, only truly felt.

Blending poetry and melody, Isabelle shares pieces of her personal journals from the past decade. Her songs aim to inspire confidence, authenticity, and fearless self-expression. She bravely addresses themes of love, life, and sexuality, challenging taboos and encouraging open conversations through her art.
