ICEMO

Modern German Rock from Stuttgart, Germany

Powerful Rock. Honest Stories. No Borders.

About ICEMO

ICEMO is a female-fronted rock band from Stuttgart, Germany, blending powerful vocals, memorable melodies, and emotionally driven songwriting. Since forming in 2015, the band has steadily built a growing audience through authentic songwriting, energetic live performances, and a series of independent releases, culminating in the 2026 album Redebedarf.

Combining modern rock energy with alternative influences and anthemic hooks, ICEMO creates songs that connect with listeners through honest storytelling and relatable themes. Led by vocalist Katja Green, the band explores life's challenges, resilience, personal growth, and human connection through music that resonates beyond language barriers.

With growing international recognition, ICEMO is steadily expanding its reach beyond Germany through radio support, playlist placements, music curators, and independent promotion campaigns.

Recent Highlights

• Featured on SWR4
• International support through Groover campaigns
• Growing interest from radio stations, curators, and music influencers
• Manchester-based punk band V2 recorded a cover version of "Du da drüben" ("I'm Here")
• Limited vinyl release of "Redebedarf" (200 copies)

About the Album: Redebedarf

Released in 2026, Redebedarf represents a new chapter for ICEMO. The album combines powerful rock arrangements with honest storytelling and explores themes such as communication, identity, resilience, personal growth, and modern social challenges.

The title translates roughly as "Need to Talk", reflecting the band's belief that meaningful conversations matter more than ever.

Available on all major streaming platforms as well as on vinyl, Redebedarf reflects the band's passion for both modern and classic ways of experiencing music.

Limited Vinyl Edition

For collectors and vinyl enthusiasts, Redebedarf is also available as a strictly limited vinyl pressing of only 200 copies. This special edition offers fans a tangible connection to the album and its stories while celebrating the timeless appeal of physical music formats.

Featured Tracks

"Alles Anders"
Written during the pandemic era, "Alles Anders" (English: "Everything Was Different") reflects the uncertainty, isolation, and emotional challenges experienced around the world when everyday life suddenly changed. Combining honest lyrics with powerful rock energy, the song captures a time when familiar routines disappeared, the future felt uncertain, and many people were searching for answers. It serves as both a reflection on a difficult chapter and a tribute to the resilience people discovered along the way.

"Falsch Abgebogen"

A high-energy rock track about mistakes, temptation, and the consequences of taking a wrong turn. Told from the perspective of someone reflecting on a moment of betrayal and poor judgment, the song explores guilt, regret, and the realization that even a single reckless decision can change everything. Despite its serious theme, "Falsch Abgebogen" combines honesty, self-irony, and infectious rock energy, reminding listeners that nobody is perfect and that every wrong turn can become a lesson for the future.

"In Ner Andern Welt"

An emotional rock ballad about a relationship that has reached a point of no return. After disappointment, broken promises, and too many missed opportunities, the narrator realizes that some wounds cannot be repaired. The phrase "In Ner Andern Welt" ("In Another World") symbolizes the moment when someone has emotionally moved on and begun seeing life from a completely different perspective. Blending heartfelt lyrics with powerful melodies, the song captures the pain of letting go and accepting that the past cannot always be reclaimed.

"Redebedarf"

The title track of the album addresses one of the greatest challenges of modern life: genuine communication. Combining energetic rock arrangements with an anthemic chorus, "Redebedarf" highlights the importance of speaking openly, listening to one another, and confronting difficult conversations instead of avoiding them. At its core, the song is about understanding, connection, and the belief that meaningful dialogue can bridge even the widest divides.

"Albtraum"

A powerful and emotionally intense song that explores the fears, doubts, and painful thoughts that can haunt us like a nightmare. Through dynamic guitars and passionate vocals, "Albtraum" captures the feeling of being trapped by inner struggles while ultimately delivering a message of resilience, strength, and hope. Even in the darkest moments, the song reminds listeners that there is always a way forward.

"Angst vorm Leben"

An honest and relatable rock anthem about confronting fear, uncertainty, and the tendency to hold ourselves back. The song explores how anxiety can prevent us from embracing new opportunities and living life to its fullest potential. Driven by energetic guitars and memorable melodies, "Angst vorm Leben" encourages listeners to step beyond their comfort zones, face change with courage, and move forward despite their doubts.

"Diese Uhr"

A nostalgic and reflective song about the passing of time and the memories that shape us. Looking back at a simpler era of childhood adventures, video rental stores, dance classes, and life before constant digital connection, "Diese Uhr" reminds listeners to slow down, appreciate the present, and hold on to the moments that truly matter before they become memories themselves.

"Nicht um jeden Preis"

A powerful modern rock track with a simple but timely message: don't let anger take control. Inspired by the growing aggression and impatience often seen in everyday life, especially on the road, the song encourages listeners to stay calm, avoid unnecessary conflicts, and not allow themselves to be provoked by others. Sometimes the strongest response is simply keeping your cool.

"Spielball Deiner Seele"

One of ICEMO's most philosophical songs, "Spielball Deiner Seele" explores questions about life, the soul, and what may await us beyond this world. Through poetic imagery and thought-provoking lyrics, the song reflects on the memories we collect throughout our lives, the experiences that shape us, and the possibility that every moment serves a greater purpose. Blending introspection with emotional depth, the track invites listeners to reflect on their own journey and the legacy they leave behind.

"Irgendwann"

A heartfelt love song about the moment when two people already know what they feel, but one of them is still afraid to say it out loud. "Irgendwann" captures the tension between unspoken emotions and the longing for honesty, asking a simple yet universal question: when will you finally follow your heart? With its emotional lyrics and melodic rock sound, the song speaks to anyone who has ever waited for love to be acknowledged.

"Du da drüben" ("I'm Here")

Relationships are not always about agreement. "Du da drüben" explores the challenges of communication, conflict, and standing up for what truly matters. The song encourages openness and honesty, even when conversations become difficult. Rather than hiding emotions or avoiding confrontation, it reminds us that sharing our feelings can strengthen understanding and sometimes even save a relationship before it reaches a breaking point.

"Niemand Da" ("Nobody There")

One of ICEMO's most powerful and emotional songs, "Niemand Da" gives a voice to children who have experienced emotional or physical abuse and feel abandoned by the people or beliefs they were taught to trust. The song addresses feelings of loneliness, fear, and loss of faith while asking difficult questions about protection, justice, and hope. Through deeply moving lyrics and a haunting atmosphere, "Niemand Da" shines a light on a reality that is often hidden, offering empathy to those who feel unseen and unheard.

The Story Behind "Falsch Abgebogen"

Sometimes the best songs happen when you stop trying too hard.

"Falsch Abgebogen" was written in less than an hour during a band songwriting weekend. What started as a frustrating creative session unexpectedly turned into one of ICEMO's most energetic and authentic songs.

The song explores the wrong turns we all take in life, whether in relationships, careers, or personal decisions. Rather than dwelling on regret, it encourages listeners to embrace mistakes, learn from them, and keep moving forward.

Why ICEMO?

ICEMO combines the power of modern rock with authentic real-life storytelling. While the band performs primarily in German, their themes are universal:

- Hope
- Relationships
- Self-discovery
- Resilience
- Personal growth
- Overcoming challenges

"The language may be different, but the emotions are instantly recognizable."

Recommended For Fans Of

Halestorm • The Pretty Reckless • Evanescence • Guano Apes • The Warning

---

Band Members

- Katja Green – Lead Vocals
- Michael Pelz – Guitar
- Tobias Beitz – Guitar, Backing Vocals
- Jürgen Nuding – Bass, Backing Vocals
- Dominik Rossow – Drums

Social Media & Streaming

Spotify:

https://open.spotify.com/artist/...

YouTube:

https://youtube.com/@icemo6145

Facebook:

https://www.facebook.com/...

Instagram:

https://www.instagram.com/...

Website:

https://www.icemo.de

SoundCloud:
https://on.soundcloud.com

ICEMO

Powerful Rock. Honest Stories. No Borders.

Katja Green
Lead Vocalist & Media Contact

ICEMO

www.icemo.de

info@icemo.de

green.katja@web.de

Germany