

RADIOGEIST

Radiogeist is a high-octane rock trio based in Germany and the UK, blending European modern heavy rock influences, and grunge grit. Their second album, '9', reached #32 in the Official UK Rock & Metal Albums Chart in May 2025.

Awarded Best Rock Band at the Deutscher Rock & Pop Preis, Radiogeist is a force of nature - blending raw energy with a sound that defies genres. In 2024, they tore up the stage with Mono Inc., and in 2023, they brought the heat alongside Ian Paice (of Deep Purple) and Purpendicular. This is a band built for the big stage - and they're just getting started.
