

With his funk infused guitar style, groovy rhythm and his chill, silvery voice, Flo Grell writes pop songs, processing emotions and experiences he had throughout his life.

Picking up the guitar at an early age Flo Grell was not yet sure what to be in life in his teens. But after being on a 9 month trip to Australia at the age of 19, that has changed. He decided to embrace his passion in music. This was back in 2016 and In a few years Flo has come a long way.

From writing unassuming love songs in his bedroom to playing his own solo shows with a loop pedal. From busking in the streets of Sydney and Brisbane over frequenting lots of local open mic nights. He truly has seen lots of facets to performing music and keeps going.

Right now he is mostly to be seen playing with his band at bars and clubs in and around his home in Hamburg, Germany. You might even spot a sign reading 'Tonight: Flo Grell & Band Live' while strolling over Hamburgs Reeperbahn at night.

By now Flo built up a huge repertoire of original songs and started to release his debut EP simply called 'Flo Grell'. The project heavily bases around his percussive guitar style and pop-song-esque songwriting. Incorporating many styles of music from the likes of Funk and Pop music to influences of Classic Rock. He sets his project apart by exclusively using voice and acoustic guitar to create the sounds on this album. Two of the six songs have been released over the last few months and according to his Instagram feed the next one is coming early December this year. We are excited to see what the future might hold for this young artist.
