

ADAM13 „ZWEI MACH EINS“

Brilljant Sounds/Indigo - LC 24792 - VÖ: 22.02.2019

Life screams at you. Breaks hearts, bones, promises. Only one thing helps: resist.

ADAM13 documents your life and calls for a new start and escape. A rock duo as association machine: Apollo 13. Adam and Eve. Paradise and rockets. Guitar and Drums. Jon Spencer and the Black Keys.

ADAM13 knows and recognizes the suffering and gives it a golden hand edge blow. Give everything, not only what is just enough.

Yes, now one knows: for a brilliant sound one does not need an entire orchestra. And yet there are bands where one is surprised how two people can weave together such colorful soundscapes. ADAM13 is one such example. Phatsen (guitar & vocals) and Brauer (drums & vocals) move in an electrifying field between extreme discipline, timing, elaborate breaks, trenchant riffs and licks, sharp lyrics and that what hard work frees up: excess, chemistry, new resources, and a deeply contented internal and external smile when counting down and recounting their songs.

The Berlin-based duo called its second album ZWEI MACH EINS. A pun on two persons doing one thing together and a couple separating into one and one. And also on Mach 1, the sound of speed. ADAM13 is speeding through ten songs between nervous big city blues, dirty desert rock and the crumbs and left-overs of love. Using vintage microphones and high-end technology, the band transformed its rehearsal space into a secret Abbey Road Studio cabin.

The new album's first single release „Schweinehundbezwingerding" became an instant hit for ADAM13 - with more than 5.000 plays on Spotify in less than a week, especially in New York City! That led to a sold out show with Grammy-Award-winner Fantastic Negrito, airplay on a couple of college radios and the certainty, that you have to have this dynamic duo on your list for 2019.
