LOWNEWHIGH

It is said that we are forlorn like lost children in the woods. And are we not? The ever-present feeling of weight, free-fall and the schemes clouding ones judgment. It is what we feel. We wanted to put these emotions into words and to amplify them through sound.

Our 4-piece is comprised of musicians, who are no strangers to both, the DIY scene and studio work. We are inspired by the rawness of metal, vastness of electronic music and the eclecticism of indie. Through this, we could combine our strengths to proudly present our first releases.

Face the ease of absence with "Iron Schemes" and dive into the muddy depths of fear with "Currents."
