About Confession by Silence

Confession by Silence is a melodic death metal band based in Hamburg, Germany. Since its formation, Confession by Silence has combined aggression with emotion. High-energy Melodic Death Metal independent and innovative, with a perfect blend of catchy melodies and varied rhythms. Alongside sophisticated guitar work and emotional, passionately dark vocals, Confession by Silence have the courage to incorporate genre-untypical elements into their dynamic, brooding sound. In doing so, they create powerful and fresh music without denying their musical roots.

Biography

Confession by Silence was founded in 2009 in Gadebusch near Schwerin by guitarist Clemens Burmeister and drummer Christoph Kuban, who had already made music together in school. With Dennis Hausmann, Martin Hennecke, Paul Thiess (keys) and Steffen Falk (vocals), they first covered rock songs before developing their own melodic metal sound inspired by Scandinavian bands.

After Hausmann's departure, Daniel Hauschuld briefly joined on guitar, until Peter Jestrinski became a permanent member in 2011, when the band's center shifted to Hamburg. Their debut Face The End In The Mirror appeared in 2012, followed by shows with acts like Ensiferum, Excrementory Grindfuckers and Triptykon. In 2013, Kuban left temporarily, returning later, while the EP A Better Day To Die (2014) brought the first music video.

With bassist Volker Wilkens and drummer Ben Ramirez, the band released Reach The Surface in 2017. Ramirez left in 2019, making way for Kuban's return. Since 2021, Nils Schade has played bass, and in 2022 Dennis Filbert became the new frontman. After Jestrinski's farewell concert in 2023, Vic Mussolino took over the second guitar.

In 2025, Confession by Silence released their latest album Repentance In Time, accompanied by several videos and enthusiastically received by fans and critics alike.

Reviews and Features

From the Magazine "Legacy - The voice from the dark side":

With "Repentance InTime," they've crafted an album that's a genuine alternative to In Flames & Co. and definitely doesn't have to hide. The songs on "Repentance In Time" are diverse, with captivating melodies (often including keyboards), memorable grooves, and thought-provoking lyrics. "We ourselves like varied and dynamic songs with a certain compositional versatility. It's great when you can still discover new details in the songs on the tenth listen, and maybe even be surprised by something new every now and then."
